

Enrico Fedi

Research Fellow

Expertise

Environment and Development, Political Ecology, Latin America

London, United Kingdom

E-mail: e.fedi@lse.ac.uk

▶ MY ACTIVITIES FOR THE TTTdM

I joined the Think Tank Trinità dei Monti in June 2020 as a “Young Thinktanker”. Since the very beginning, I took part of the Editorial Committee, and I have written articles monthly. My research covers topics such as political ecology, environmental issues, and development interventions. The area of research mainly revolves around Latin America. In addition to that, I have proof-read my colleagues’ articles. Lastly, I have worked on administrative tasks, updated databases, and I have participated in translation activities.

STUDIES ◀

I have an international academic background. Currently, I am attending a MSc in Environment and Development at the London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE). I hold a BA in International Sciences and Diplomacy (First) at the University of Trieste (Italy). During my BA, I did in a one-year study exchange at the Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne University's Law School. In addition to that, I have attended a Summer School on Sustainable Development at the Freie Universität in Berlin. Through these experiences, I have had the opportunity to learn from different educational frameworks and increase my curiosity and mental openness.

▶ WORK EXPERIENCE

I am now working as a trilingual freelance project assistant at Freshminds in London, where I provide public affairs consulting services to different firms at an international level. In specific, I help clients navigating different legislations and translate technical data into understandable concepts. During Summer 2018, I have worked as a research and administration intern at the Territorial Commission for the International Protection of Trieste (Italian Interior Ministry). During the experience, I completed several case study researches on asylum seekers’ countries of origin, allocated interviews and oversaw the reorganization of a 5-years archive.

OTHER ACTIVITIES ◀

Alongside my studies, I took part in several volunteering projects. In London, I have volunteered for Greenpeace UK and I joined the Social Services, helping those in need during the pandemic. In Paris, I have been a volunteer for the UN Environment Branch student association. The aim was raising students’ environmental awareness. Lastly, in Italy I have volunteered for the UN Youth Association, a cultural student organization centred on informing people on UN activities and principles.

▶ LANGUAGES: ITALIAN, ENGLISH, FRENCH, PORTUGUESE AND SPANISH

◀ Go to my page

ARTICLES

"Environmental racism in the U.S.A.: an analysis on Louisiana and Texas",
30/11/2020 - DOI: 10.48256/TDM2012_00157

"#COVID-19NasFavelas: impacts, community response, and future perspectives",
30/09/2020 - DOI: 10.48256/TDM2012_00136

"The Complexities of Environmental Governance in the Brazilian Amazon",
15/07/2020 - DOI: 10.48256/TDM2012_00118

◀ Go to my page